The Capital is a cherished venue for special events. Within minutes of entering this historic theatre precinct on View Street, you'll understand why...

The Capital, located on historic View Street, was originally built as the Sandhurst Masonic Hall in 1873 and boasts one of the finest entries of any arts centre in the nation, with towering Corinthian columns and an interior that has been restored to its original grandeur.

The 480 seat capacity Capital Theatre sits above two elegant heritage chambers – The Capital's Banquet Room and the Bendigo Bank Theatre.

The Capital's Banquet Room is an elegant space on the ground floor for larger group dinners, meetings, wedding receptions, awards nights, presentations or trade-show displays.

The Bendigo Bank Theatre is a unique space which was the original 1873 lodge room of the Freemasons and one of the most significant heritage spaces in Bendigo.

These heritage spaces with their ornate plasterwork, decorative stained glass and magnificent ceilings are all equipped with the latest audio visual equipment to facilitate any presentation. They each lead onto graceful foyer spaces serviced by kitchen and bar facilities.
